DIFFERENCES

Of Opinion May Work Ill For the Mission of Hibernian Envoys.

Men of Various Moulds Look at Visit Through Separate Glasses.

Not Before August Will Big Fight Come On Birrell Bill.

DEPENDS MUCH ON THE LORDS

When National President Matthew Cummings and the Rev. Father P. H. O'Donnell, State chaplain of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Massachusetts, made their advent into Ireland they were received with delight and welcomed as harbingers of peace. In less than two weeks the tide has turned against them, and now the leaders of the Irish people would just as soon have both of their visitors west of the Atlantic ocean. There are few correspondents whose letters are full of more meat than those of Hon. T. P. O'Connor, whether he talks of the Balkan situation or of Irish affairs. His last letter to the Chicago Tribune says:

"The Irishmen won the big victory in the debate this week, exposing the utter breakdown of the English Government in Ireland. One hundred thousand acres of the best land has been allowed for more than a century to be flooded yearly, with a gigantic destruction of property and widespread disease. Indeed the awful dimensions of consumption in Ireland was proven largely due to this neglect of the Government to fulfill this most elementary duty to the poor. Ireland is closing up its ranks more unitedly every day now, and Redmond and the other leaders are more hopeful than at any other time for years. The only real division now is occasioned by the presence in Ireland of Matthew Cummings, National President of the A. O. H. in the United States, who appears to have invaded Ireland with the intention to break up the Irish ranks. At first the purpose of Cummings was unknown, and the Irishmen's profound love and gratitude to all Americans induced a hearty welcome to Cummings. When his denunciations of the Irish party in speeches and conversations in America were understood and his scheme was understood and is now being vehemently denounced."

Mr. O'Connor wrote the above from London, and usually represents the feelings of the Irish Parliamentary party, but there are other Irish writers who are still in favor of the mission of Mr. Cummings and Father O'Donnell. The editor of the Dundalk Democrat bids the people to welcome the American envoys to his section and adds:

"Many thoughtful people, outside the A. O. H. altogether, will wish the envoys God-speed on their mission. There are not wanting signs of serious trouble in Irish national politics if certain recent developments are permitted to go unchecked, and we have had political trouble enough if we could be avoided. The A. O. H. in Ireland ought to be what it is in America—a great social and benevolent association, not merely a political one. If it is regarded with suspicion and distrust, and even hostile hostility, in some of the divisions of the order may have been used by political hacks for the attainment of their ends. That is apparently what to stop, if it is possible. And that is one of the most useful and necessary things, from the standpoint of national politics, that can engage the attention of any Irishman today."

Quite a difference is apparent between the opinions of the London correspondent and the editor of the Dundalk Democrat. It is to be hoped that the mission of the American envoys will result in peace rather than in disturbance.

In another part of his letter Mr. O'Connor tells us that the real struggle of the Irish land bill will come in August. Then the House of Lords will have to measure before it. That body, true to its old traditions, doubtless will mutilate the measure, and may excise, for instance, both compulsion and the special treatment of the congested districts. But the critical moment will come when negotiations open between them and the Government and when the moment, if the House of Lords be reasonable about compulsion and the congested districts, it may find assistance and alliance from the Irish Nationalists. The Nationalists do not want to see the land purchase strangled or even slowed down; they like it. And if more money is required under the imperial funds to grease the wheels of the operation by offering large inducements to the landlords to sell, they won't object."

LINCOLN'S STATUE.

The Lincoln statue at Hodgenville is to be unveiled on Decoration day, May 30, and it is probable that a vast crowd of Kentuckians will visit Larcum county that day. When the cornerstone was laid in February the weather was decidedly inclement.

HAPPY CELEBRATION.

It was a happy crowd of children, grandchildren and other relatives that assembled at the residence of John C. Lepping last Sunday afternoon and evening to felicitate him upon his fifty-fourth birthday anniversary. Mrs. John Lepping had taken the others into her confidence and arranged a surprise for her husband. The table was loaded with all manner of good things to eat, but in the center stood a mammoth birthday cake surmounted by a metal basket filled with flowers, and among the flowers were fifty-four small candles, one for each milestone in Mr. Lepping's life. Among those gathered at the feast were of course Mr. Lepping and his wife, Mesdames Louise Hodapp, Raymond Hodapp, C. E. Yeager, Misses Marie, Dora and Eunice Lepping, and Messrs. John Lepping, Jr., Raymond Hodapp, C. E. Yeager, Henry and John Lepping, Jake Brown and Masters Andrew and Raymond Hodapp and Joe Maas.

MANY MOURN

Untimely Death of Richard G. Shanley, Popular in All Ways.

The death of Richard G. Shanley, which occurred last Sunday afternoon at his home, 124 East Chestnut street, was a profound shock to his host of friends, many of whom did not even know he was ill. Mr. Shanley was one of the first residents of Louisville to join the Knights of Columbus, and that body had charge of his funeral.

The deceased is survived by his daughters, Misses Lucille and Frances Shanley; one sister, Mrs. C. E. Worrell, and two brothers, James Shanley, of Fairfield, and Thomas Shanley, of Galesburg, Ill. Mr. Shanley was born at Fairfield forty-five years ago, but came to Louisville in 1879. A few years later he became the proprietor of the Old Blue House, a wholesale and retail liquor establishment. Afterward he disposed of his interests and formed a partnership with John Coleman in the fish and shell business. Ill health caused him to retire several weeks ago, but few of his friends thought the end was so near.

The funeral of Mr. Shanley took place from the Cathedral Tuesday morning, and that casted a gloom over the city. The friends and associates of the deceased.

FIENDISH WORK.

Attempt Made to Wreck Stately Old Cathedral at New Orleans.

Fiends in human shape last Sunday attempted to wreck the stately old St. Louis Cathedral at New Orleans, and but for some hitch in their plans the loss of life might have been enormous. Workmen had been engaged for some time in repairing the tower, and there had been some ill-feeling among the men. It is believed that the disgruntled ones arranged a dynamite bomb so that it would destroy the lives of the others. The bomb exploded at the foot of the tower at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Only a priest, a woman and a child were in the church. None were hurt, but had the explosion occurred several hours earlier, when the church was filled with worshippers at mass, there is no telling how many lives would have been sacrificed in the panic that ensued.

One of the small altars in the front part of the church was wrecked, several handsome glass windows were broken, and a quantity of plastering was destroyed. The damage to the church is estimated at $2,000. Several suspects were arrested by the police but later released. St. Louis Cathedral was built more than 100 years ago, when Louisiana was a Spanish province.

BACK TO TOWN.

Cast and Chorus Working Hard and Almost Ready.

Mackin's Choral Club is almost ready for its public performances of "Back to Town," the latest tuneful musical character from Aulyn Kanston. There will be four performances at Macaulay's Theater as follows: Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, May 19, 20 and 21, and Saturday matinee on May 22.

The cast and chorus have been rehearsing diligently, and are ready for final dress and orchestral rehearsals whenever the occasion offers. The singing and drilling of the chorus is nearly perfect, and the cast promises to be so well prepared that its members might easily be mistaken for professionals. Although more than two weeks will elapse before the initial performance, both Mr. Kanston, the composer, and Carl Zang, the musical director, claim that the company could be gotten ready for the stage within a few days' notice.

Miss Stella Cusaden, the prima donna, who is to take the part of Virginia, is in excellent voice and is well pleased with her part. She has had a wide and varied experience, and is a charming and artistic young actress. Mackin Council is to be congratulated on securing her services, and there is no doubt that she will prove a drawing attraction. Seats will go on sale at Macaulay's box office on Monday, May 17. The cast will be made up as follows:

Virginia.....Miss Stella Cusaden
Trickie.....Miss Estelle E. Hoffman
Snooks.....Miss Leota Whitton Birch
Senator Voyce.....Louis J. Kieffer
Aunt Treasy.....Patrick G. King
Schmittie.....Charles Parsons
Gottlieb.....Thos. D. Clines
Percy.....Aulyn E. Kanston

RUMOR OF HONOR.

It is rumored in New England's ecclesiastical circles that the Rev. Father Richard Neagle, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Malden, Mass., has been selected to succeed the late Bishop Michael Tierney.

MONTH OF MAY

Particularly Devoted to Honor of the Mother of Our Redeemer.

Children Will Deck Her Statues With Garlands of Flowers.

Origin of Devotion Not Recorded in History But Is Traditional.

WILL BE OBSERVED LOCALLY

Today is the first of May, and for the next thirty-one days the altars of the Blessed Virgin will be decked with bright flowers and the faithful will sound her praises in both hymns and prayers. Tomorrow in many churches there will be processions of boys and girls, and the status of the Blessed Virgin will be crowned with garlands of flowers. Every night or morning, or both, the faithful will assemble in their parish churches to assist at the mass, to recite the Rosary, to hear instructions on the devotion to the blessed mother of God or to receive the benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

From the earliest Christian ages Catholics have honored Mary, the mother of Jesus, in various ways, but the May devotions in her honor are of recent origin comparatively. The Catholic church does not recognize May by any change in the mass or office, but in 1815 Pope Pius VII. granted an indulgence of 300 days daily to those who practice the devotions at home or in church, and a plenary indulgence any one day in the month on condition of confession, communion and prayer for the intentions of the Pope. The Catholic writers are not positive when the May devotions began to be practiced. Yet one knows that they must have been practiced for several centuries from tradition. In England the children have been at their Maypole dances for so long that Shakespeare and Tennyson have made them memorable in verse.

Among the prayers recited during the May devotions none is more frequent than the Litany of the Blessed Virgin, and in its last appeal to her we say: "Queen of the Most Holy Rosary, pray for us." The Rosary, Catholics believe, is a crown of roses that her children wish to be decked the brow of the Blessed Virgin. The devotion of the Rosary had its origin in the twelfth century through St. Dominic, and since then it has become a great devotion among Catholics in every clime.

May is the month of flowers, and in our own country the month of early roses. Little children, from the tiny tots just able to walk to those of twelve and fourteen, are frequently found in these May-day processions. It is not at all infrequent to find the members of young men's and young ladies' societies either following or leading the little ones, not from a desire for display, but to show their devotion to the mother of God.

Here in Louisville there will be few if any churches without their May processions tomorrow and devotions throughout the month. In some of them there will be devotions both night and morning during the month, but these are only rendered possible where there are more than one priest.

At St. Joseph's church the May devotions began last night with a procession. During the entire month special devotions will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 7:30 o'clock, and on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. On Sundays the prayers for May will be recited during the vesper service at 2:30 o'clock.

St. St. Louis Bertrand's church the May festivities will begin tomorrow with a procession of several hundred children. The fifteen Rosary banners will be carried in the procession, the Rosary will be recited and one of the eloquent Dominicans will preach a sermon on the devotion to the Mother of God.

At the Cathedral, St. Patrick's, Sacred Heart and the other churches in the city, even to the smallest, similar processions and exercises will be held.

TOASTED COLONEL.

Retiring Commander of Famous Sixty-ninth Regiment Dined.

When the thirty-five officers of the famous New York Sixty-ninth Regiment gave a dinner to their retiring commander, Col. Edward Duffy, a few days ago, they presented him with a badge of the Fourth Army corps, first division, in which the regiment's numerals, "69" were set in diamonds, with a red enamel border edged with gold, for which Gen. Duffy's efforts obtained the municipal appropriation, would always be a monument to his forty-one years of service. He also reminded the rest of the diners of the time, at the outbreak of the Spanish war, when there was some doubt as to how the militia regiments would respond to the call to arms, Col. Duffy volunteered the entire regiment to a man, and they all went.

"We were the only regiment in the State which volunteered 100 per cent."

On our return we had practically to build up the regiment all over again. Today you men are up to the standard of any old National Guard regiment in the State. And you must keep your reputation up. This regiment has been my hobby for forty-two years this coming June. It is always growing. Next year you will have sixteen companies instead of fourteen. With you it must be the Sixty-ninth first, last and all the time."

FULL OF INTEREST

Was the Meeting of Division 4 From Start to Finish.

Division 4, A. O. H., had a splendid meeting Monday night, and there was not a dull moment during the entire session. President John J. Hennessy occupied the chair. Former County President John A. Murphy and Thomas A. Langan made their appearance after several months' absence and were given a warm welcome. The applications of William Callahan and Edward Queeney were received, Frank Sullivan and John M. Brennan were elected to membership and Patrick O'Hara and Michael Gilmore were obligated. Patrick Gilligan, John E. Browne and Patrick Kenney were reported ill, and Eugene Sullivan and Lawrence Menany were reported fully recovered.

State Secretary William J. Connelly told of the particulars of the recent trip to Lexington. He said that the visit would result in great good and that a large division would be organized at the Bluegrass capital within the next thirty days.

Attorney Newton G. Rogers delivered an interesting address on the recent controversy between President Roosevelt and the Lutheran ministers. Mr. Rogers showed the folly of the ministers' argument that the Pope would suggest to any Catholics how to vote in any election. Such a thing has never happened in the world's history and never will. The Pope advises the faithful to take the Bible in one hand and make themselves good citizens. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Rogers was given a rising vote of thanks.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Dolan, widow of John Dolan, took place from the family residence, 938 South Eleventh street, Tuesday morning, with the requiem mass at St. William's church. The deceased is survived by two sons, Patrick and John J. Coleman. Mrs. Dolan was sixty-five years of age and highly respected in the community in which she lived.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Monkenkamp, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Louis Schmidt, 1704 Magazine street, took place from St. Peter's church on Sunday morning. The deceased was born in Germany seventy years ago, but had lived in Louisville the greater part of her life. Her husband, William Monkenkamp, Sr., a son, William Monkenkamp, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Louis Schmidt, survive her. Mrs. Monkenkamp was highly respected by all who knew him.

Mrs. Sallie A. Ready, one of the oldest and best known Catholic ladies of Louisville, died at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital Saturday night. After having been prepared for burial the body was removed to the family residence, 1208 West Jefferson street. The deceased was seventy years old, and a native of Ireland, but had lived in this city almost all her life. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. R. W. Harwood of this city; Mrs. George Salender, of Frankfort; Miss Beatrice Ready and Albert Ready. The funeral, which took place from the Cathedral of the Assumption Tuesday morning, was largely attended.

Michael King, a venerable member of the Sacred Heart parish, died at his home, 1519 West Broadway, Tuesday afternoon as the result of cerebral hemorrhage. He was born in Ireland sixty-six years ago, but came to America with a child. For many years he had been a resident of Louisville. The deceased is survived by his wife and the following children: John King, of Denver, Col.; T. H. King, of Knoxville, Tenn.; George C. King, of Portland, Ore.; James W. King, Mrs. John Snyder, Mrs. Ullis Overstreet and Misses Julia and Anna King, of this city. The funeral took place from the Church of the Sacred Heart yesterday morning, and was largely attended.

HANDSOMELY REMEMBERED.

Fred H. Huesman, executive clerk in the general freight office of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company at Tenth and Broadway, was agreeably surprised by his colleagues on Tuesday afternoon. Several days before he had made known his intention of retiring from the service of the railroad company to take up his residence in California. His co-workers assembled Tuesday and presented him with a handsome silver water service and a magnificent seal ring. Mr. Huesman expressed his thanks briefly and feelingly. He goes to join his family, who have been located at Los Angeles for several years. His connection with the railroad company covered a period of seventeen years.

LEXINGTON K. C.'S.

Bluegrass Council, K. of C., will initiate a large class tomorrow, and many members of Louisville Council will go to Lexington to assist in the exemplification of the degrees. Hon. James J. O'Brien, of Lexington, will be the toastmaster at the banquet which will follow the initiation, and the speakers will be Frank O'Donnell and John C. Talbot, of Lexington, and J. J. Kavanagh, of Louisville.

SHELLS

Are Falling Fast Into Camp of the City Administration Followers.

Announcement of Smith's Candidacy Created Consternation Surely.

Inquires About Affairs at Alms House Cause For Trouble.

CAPT. FOSTER AND THE POST

George Weissinger Smith, one of the ablest attorneys at the Louisville bar, a Kentuckian, a Louisville boy, a graduate of the High School, and a man who has the best interests of this city at heart, though he may see those interests through the stained glass of Republicanism, has announced his candidacy for Mayor.

This announcement has changed the entire political status in Louisville and has thrown consternation into the Grinstead ranks. Mr. Smith has a clean record and no entangling alliances. Two years ago he was the Republican candidate for Mayor against Grinstead, but the latter won on a fluke, some call it by uglier names. Mayor Grinstead was declared the nominee and was elected. Since then he has proven a disappointment to his friends and an absolute failure as the chief executive of the city. From now until the Republican primary the Democrats can look for a campaign of recrimination being banded back and forth between the followers of the Grinstead and Smith forces. Meanwhile the Democrats will enjoy the spectacle.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners will hold their regular monthly meeting a week from next Tuesday, and it is announced employees are to be paid forthwith. This will make room for twelve Republicans, and thus far more than one hundred applicants have sought the jobs. Louis Humphrey, City Hall reporter for the Evening Post, leads in the betting for Chief License Inspector. His partisan political articles from the past few years have made him a favorite. Ben B. Kelly is running behind Humphrey, and Louis Newman is tipped for a sure thing in one of the subordinate capacities. Whoever wins there will be much fighting over the spoils because there will not be near enough to go around. That message of George W. Shields, former engineer at the Alms House, certainly brought no crumb of consolation to Mayor Grinstead and his Board of Public Safety. Mr. Shields talks like a man who possesses more information than he has made public. However, it is hardly possible that the board will probe the matter now. Perhaps the grand jury may take a hand.

People are asking continually "What is the matter with our School Board?" The reason is that Chief Haeger persists in sending a cordon of police to the meetings of the board when the least argument is in prospect. He is afraid the Trustees will decide to play each other over the purchase of an automobile.

The Kentucky Irish American would gladly let Robert J. Foster retire from the limelight, but the Evening Post continues to force him in front. The collection for him is the latest thing, and it does not seem to set the world on fire. He confessed a fine of $50 for a brutal assault on an inoffensive young man. But the Post, in face of the fact that the attorneys for the defense had given their services free, insisted on raising a subscription of $100 to defray Foster's expenses. Thus far the subscriptions have been few and slow, and so many anonymous offerings are being made that people wonder if Foster and the Post are collaborating. Foster won a trip to Cuba in the Post's popularity contest, but he is still here. Does he prefer to go to Panama or Alcatraz?

"EL CAPITAN."

Tuneful Opera to Be Given by Best Local Talent Obtainable.

The Cecilia Choral Club will present John Philip Sousa's famous military opera, "El Capitan," at Macaulay's Theater on the nights of May 10 and 11, and from Monday to Tuesday afternoon. Several days before he had made known his intention of retiring from the service of the railroad company to take up his residence in California. His co-workers assembled Tuesday and presented him with a handsome silver water service and a magnificent seal ring. Mr. Huesman expressed his thanks briefly and feelingly. He goes to join his family, who have been located at Los Angeles for several years. His connection with the railroad company covered a period of seventeen years.

working to a tremendous climax at the close. The music throughout the opera is of a very high order, but very catchy, and no doubt will please all tastes. Mr. Leo A. Schmitt, musical director, is well pleased with the work of the club. The staging of the opera is in the hands of Messrs. J. J. Flynn, P. W. Hager, Tello Webb and Thomas Evans, and this is a surety that an excellent production will be the result. Miss Costigan, who has displayed marked talent as a singer and actress. Possessing a rich mezzo soprano voice, she has won many compliments at the rehearsals. Mr. Frank Ryan is also doing excellently as understudy to the part of Verrada.

The costumes, which are of the early part of the seventeenth century, will give opportunity for fine effects in this line. The scenes are laid in Peru, South America, during the Spanish possession.

It is assumed that the opera will be a financial as well as an artistic success. Those who have seen the "Mikado," given by the club last June, will no doubt be anxious to see them in Sousa's great opera, which is even a more ambitious undertaking than the charming "Mikado." It is said by many who have witnessed the rehearsals that it will be the best thing ever seen in this city given by local talent.

DIAMOND JUBILEE.

German Catholic Orphans Will Be Guests Tomorrow.

The German Catholics of Louisville will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum tomorrow. The celebration is held at one of the several German speaking Catholic churches in the city. This year it is the turn of St. Joseph's congregation to play the hosts, and the people have made arrangements to entertain royally. The orphans will be brought in from the asylum in gala attire, and will of course be the center of attraction. The number of orphans at St. Joseph's Asylum is larger now than ever, yet all are being well cared for.

Five large vans will be used to transport these parentless little ones from the asylum at Crescent Hill to St. Joseph's church, and the Knights of St. John and Uniform Rank, Catholic Knights of America, will act as the church the procession will be met by the members of St. Joseph's Orphan Society and other friends and accompanied to the church, where solemn vespers will be sung at 2:30 o'clock. The sermon for the occasion will be preached by the Rev. Father H. J. Rothert.

After the religious ceremonies the orphans will be taken to the school hall, where an elaborate feast will be spread for the little ones by the kindly people of St. Joseph's congregation.

MANY PRELATES

Will Assist in Celebrating Jubilee of Rome's American College.

Archbishop W. H. O'Connell, of Boston, has left Rome to visit various places of interest in Italy, and it is definitely settled that he will return for the jubilee celebration of the American College, which will begin in June.

Bishop Hoban, of Scranton, has announced his intention of being in Rome for the jubilee and at the same time making an official visit to present a report on the state of his diocese as all American Bishops are required to do at least once in ten years.

An interesting feature of the celebration will be the singing of students of a sabbie ode composed in Latin by Monsignor Angelini, Secretary of the American College, one of the greatest modern writers of classical Latin. This ode will be set to music by the famous maestro, Dom Perosi, who has already shown friendliness to the college by composing for its special use an exquisite hymn to the Blessed Virgin. He declares his intention of paying a visit to America in the near future.

ST. CECILIA'S NEW CHURCH.

Work on St. Cecilia's church is going forward at a rapid pace, and when the parishioners visit the old church on each successive Sunday they are surprised to see what has been accomplished during the preceding week. The Rev. A. J. Brady, pastor of St. Cecilia's, is as much pleased with the progress as are his parishioners.

The following officers have been chosen for the ensuing twelve months by Holy Trinity Total Abstinence Society of New Albany: Spiritual Adviser, Rev. Father Charles Curran; President, Patrick Kennedy; Vice President, Peter Gougeron; Secretary, John F. McFarren; Treasurer, Joseph J. Bruger; Marshal, John Parsons; Assistant Marshal, William Bir; Trustees, Michael Thornton, Dennis Gleason, John McDerrott and Fred Eckert.

TERRIFIC

Roast For Missouri Women Lobbyists From Father Phelan.

Venerable Editor of Western Watchman Mines No Phrases.

Beer and Babies Prove Forceful Theme For the Dean of Journalists.

TEMPERANCE NOT PROHIBITION

Very Rev. Father Phelan, the venerable editor of the Western Watchman and dean of American Catholic editors, is as much opposed to suffragettes as he is to the prohibition movement. Under date of April 22 he wrote a strong article taking exception to the presence of women at the Missouri State Capitol, and he minced no words. Under the head of "Beer and Babies" he said:

"A curious spectacle is just now being presented to the world in Jefferson City. A small army of women have camped in the Capitol grounds, and they harry and buttonhole the State solons as they come and go from their labors, screaming into their ears arguments in favor of female suffrage and prohibition. They seem to have made little impression on law makers as far as the former measure is concerned; they have almost won the day in behalf of State-wide prohibition. These women should be sent to their homes; but they have no babies; their babies, but alas, they have no babies. There is a law requiring lobbyists to wear a badge and limiting their stay at the Capitol. Why is it not enforced regardless of sex?"

"We have no use for women in the pulpit and very little for them on the rostrum. They may make good physicians and lawyers; but they are sadly out of place in partisan politics. Women can talk, and talk scandalously; but they would confine their polemic eloquence to the back stairs. If these women in Jefferson City confined themselves to advocating female suffrage, the right of women to hold political office, we might let them fight it out with the Legislature; but they have gone farther and essay the role of political reformers, without waiting for a vote. They want prohibition as wide as the State and as deep as the throat of the toper, and their violent and most intemperate demands have turned the heads of some of our legislators. It is not necessary for us to repeat the arguments we have used from time to time in this paper against prohibition. Suffice it is to say that we consider it a fraud, a deceit and an hypocrisy. The male leaders in the movement are intermittent teetotalers, trying to walk straight between two debauches; or men who would prevent others the little pleasures they have no taste for themselves; and that simply to advertise their own sobriety and to enlarge a vulgar penchant for meddling in other people's affairs."

"But who are the women who would nail the lid on the whole State and clench it with a constitutional amendment? They are women who have successfully held down the lid on childbearing; they are women who are on record as advocating race-suicide; they are women who use marriage in a way which, if avowed, would land every one of them in the State's prison. These women tell the men of the State: 'You shall not drink beer'; and tell the women of the State: 'You shall not have babies.' And the first measure they advocate in the interests of the home, which, if they had their way, would never exist; and the second, the champion in the name of the higher civilization of free-love and barn-yard morality. Closing the saloons to honest temperance and opening the buffets and dining rooms to hypocrisy is like drying up the wombs of the land to honest procreation and reserving them to the uses of ignoble lust. These sterilized women should be in the penitentiary scrubbing floors, and not in the Capitol darning weak-minded legislators."

"Prohibition is a farce and a fraud in practice; and if it were honestly carried out would be an infamy. Under the law to be voted on in this State it will be unlawful to give away, sell or manufacture any intoxicant within the borders of the State. Our Saviour supplied wine for the marriage feast of Cana and He and his disciples drank wine. If He were living today He might be put in prison as a manufacturer, and his host jailed for giving the intoxicating beverage away."

HONEYMOON IN IRELAND.

Miss Mayme Weber and P. G. Clifford were united in matrimony at the Church of Our Lady in Portland Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. Father James J. Coniff officiating. After the ceremony the bride and groom repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Weber, Thirty-first and Bank streets, where they held reception. On Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. Clifford left for a trip through the Eastern States, and will eventually visit the home of the bridegroom in Belfast, Ireland. Mr. Clifford is a conductor in the employ of the Southern Railway Company, and his bride is one of the most popular girls in the West End.

CHILDREN TO PARTICIPATE.

On Monday and Tuesday mornings the children of St. Leo's parochial school will sing the music of high mass in connection with the Forty Hours' prayer.

CATHOLICS DO THEIR PART.

There are in the New York archdiocese a hundred and thirty-nine parochial schools. The total value of the school property is $11,016,585, and the annual cost of maintenance is $744,420. Think what an additional burden would be placed on the other taxpayers were there no parochial schools in the archdiocese.

HONORED BY VETERANS.

G. A. R. veterans were among those to honor the venerable Dr. Louis A. Lambert, whose golden jubilee was celebrated at Scottsville, N. Y., last Thursday. A delegation went from Rochester to Scottsville by special train, and the congratulatory address was delivered by Judge John D. Lynn, a close personal friend of Father Lambert. Despite his seventy-four years and fifty years as a priest, the jubilarian is unusually active, and as editor of the New York Freeman's Journal he continues to do yeoman work. His reputation is national, and Catholics all over the United States hope that he will be spared many years.

WHAT'S THE PRICE?

The Catholic Citizen of Rochester says editorially: "Whenever an individual is overheard to state that every man can be bought and that it is simply a case of meeting his price, it is always well to keep a sharp watch of that individual, lest he execute the thought uppermost in his undeveloped mind as soon as the opportunity presents itself. No one voicing such a sentiment is worthy the least confidence, inasmuch as no man is better than his convictions."

These sentiments are true, and Louisville has had many exemplifications of the fact. There are men in Louisville who stood high in party councils, but who frequently voiced to their less favored though more intelligent brethren the sentiment: "Every man has his price." These same leaders are now on the opposite side of the political fence. Did they have a price?

HELPING THE CHILDREN.

Not only labor leaders, but humanitarians of all sorts in the Empire State, are interested in several child labor bills that are now before the New York Legislature. The "dangerous trades" bill is almost certain to go through, and there is great hope for the "Christmas overtime" measure. Both bills deal with child labor, and the "dangerous trades" bill was especially recommended by Gov. Hughes in his message. This bill especially defines the apparatus which is to be forbidden to children under sixteen.

If labor unions never did anything else they have done much to remove children from dangerous work, and to take them away from laborious employment altogether under the age of sixteen would be still better. This is not true in all the States, but in many of them, and the list is growing year by year and is gradually emancipating the little ones from the condition of serfdom. May the good work of the labor unions continue and prosper.

BECOMING DISGRUNTLED.

The thinking people of the West and Northwest, who have been voting the Republican ticket for a decade or more and getting no recognition in return, are growing tired of it, and the editor of the St. Paul Pioneer Press remarks:

"The West and Northwest are not Republican for the sake of the label. The Republican party has no mortgage on those sections. They have been patient. But year by year there has been a growing feeling of irritation, which will certainly express itself in open revolt, unless it is recognized as a political fact and given satisfaction."

In other words, the Republicans of the West and Northwest are not getting what they think is coming to them in the way of tariff reform and general legislation. Any party that becomes too conscious of its own power is sure to meet with disaster. Several Southern States have left the Solid South in recent elections and have gone over to the Republicans. These States are faring no better than those in the North and Northwest. Leaders of the Republican party may find out when it is too late that the Eastern States can not control the destiny of the nation.

Now that George Weissinger Smith has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Mayor, the Louisville Evening Post will have something to fight in its own party. All along the Post has maintained that Smith would not oppose Grinstead, but that is as new and true as anything else that ever appeared in its columns.

Would it not have been better for the Rev. J. W. West, Superintendent of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, to have been found intoxicated rather than to be compelled to leave the State on account of more serious charges of improper conduct?

"Evangelist" West should have been indicted, tried and sentenced to the penitentiary for the rest of his natural life. Those also who shielded him deserve penitentiary sentences for compounding a felony.

RAPID PROMOTION.

Honors Come Fast to New Auxiliary Bishop of Boston.

Word has been received in Boston that the Very Rev. J. G. Anderson, pastor of St. Paul's church, Dorchester, and Vicar General of the archdiocese, has been raised to the position of Auxiliary Bishop. The news came through Monsignor Falconio, Papal Delegate to the United States, and it has been hailed with delight by the people of Boston. The new prelate will not be consecrated until Archbishop O'Connell returns.

Honors have been accumulating rapidly for Monsignor Anderson since the first of the present year. On January 15 he was made a Vicar General, and on the departure of Archbishop O'Connell five days later all the business of the diocese was placed in his hands. On Good Friday the announcement came that he had been made Prothonotary Apostolic and a member of the Monsignori. The latest is his elevation to the episcopacy.

Monsignor Anderson is Boston born and bred and is now in his forty-fourth year. He is popular with both priests and people.

JOINS TRAPPISTS.

Aged Jesuit Leaves His Company to Take More Strict Vows.

The Rev. Father David Plante, one of the oldest and best known members of the Jesuit order in Canada, will enter the Trappist Monastery of Gethsemane, in this State. Permission to leave his order was granted him by our Holy Father Pius X. Father Plante has been a member of the Jesuit order for forty-four years, and during that time occupied important posts at Montreal, St. Boniface and Guelph, Canada. The Trappists and Carthusians are the only orders that a Jesuit can enter after leaving his own company, and the Society of Jesus is called. Both orders are of the strictest observance.

WERST—BARRETT.

The Church of the Blessed Sacrament was filled at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by friends of Miss Julia Frances Werst and J. Raymond Barrett, who were united in matrimony by the Rev. Father O'Sullivan. The music under the direction of Mrs. Adelberg, was of a high order, vocally and instrumentally. Mrs. John J. Seore rendered Millard's "Ave Verum" in an exquisite manner.

Miss Caroline Adelberg was the accompanist. After the ceremony the bride and groom held a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Minnie Werst, 1064 Everett avenue. Later in the evening they left for a honeymoon trip to Cincinnati, Washington and other Eastern points. The bride is an accomplished musician and a young lady of many accomplishments. Mr. Barrett is engaged in the undertaking business. On their return from the East Mr. and Mrs. Barrett will begin housekeeping at 638 East Main street.

PLEASED GRANDFATHERS.

There are two extremely proud men in Louisville this week just because they have become grandfathers, and because one baby boy will divide his name between them. These happy gentlemen are Col. Scott Newman and Col. J. C. Boardman, and the late arrival is a son of Col. Boardman's son and Col. Newman's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boardman, of 3125 West Broadway. The father and mother of the child have decided to call him Scott Newman Boardman. It is the first grandchild on either side.

WHAT CHARMED MAID OF ERIN.

She is one of Erin's fairest kind, Her features are quiet charming, Her equal it is hard to find, Her winning ways alarming.

Her hair is of a golden cast, With eyes of starry blue; Her cheeks are of a rosy tint, Her lips are rosy, too.

'Twas at a party that she met A lad of just nineteen, Who touched her to her heart because He wore a hat of green.

SAINTLY LIFE ENDED.

Sorrow was brought to the hearts of many relatives in Louisville last Tuesday, when word was received of the death of Sister Mary Carmelita, which took place at Denver, Col., that morning. She was a member of the order of Loretto and a native of Louisville. Before becoming a nun she was known in this city as Miss Carmelita Hodapp. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Louise Hodapp, who resides on Sixth street, near Walnut, and her sister, Mrs. John C. Lepping, of 417 Eighth street, are among her surviving relatives. Sister Mary Carmelita was, thirty-eight years of age, and led a most devout life, even before entering the convent. Her arduous duties injured her health and last fall she was sent to Colorado in hopes that the climate would benefit her. It was too late and the saintly nun passed into eternal life with perfect resignation to the will of her Creator.

COLUMBUS ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Columbus Athletic Club held one of its pleasant receptions for its members, and their lady friends at Zeller's Hall on Monday night. President Ben Beckman, Messrs. Every number was enjoyable and each artist received an encore. Refreshments were furnished in abundance and the evening was brought to a close with a dance.

JOHNSON FOR GOVERNOR.

Hon. Ben Johnson, of Bardonia, has announced that he will be a candidate for Governor of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party. The Kentucky Irish American suggested his nomination six months ago, and believes that it was the first newspaper to make the suggestion.

Ben Johnson is a clean and fearless leader and a straight Democrat. He is a typical Kentuckian in stature and in manner. If he tells you he will do a thing he will do it, and if he says "No" he means it. Ben Johnson can unite the party in Kentucky as none other can.

PICNIC AND REUNION.

Combination books will be printed, and a great rivalry will take place between the various members of the congregation in disposing of them.

A regular meeting of Division 3 will be held on Thursday night and several additions to the roster are in prospect.

Steps have been taken in Buffalo looking to the erection of a monument to some distinguished man of Irish birth or ancestry.

ORDER REVERSED.

Proved Negro Had Gun But Court Ordered His Dismissal.

There are several attorneys at the local bar who think that Judge J. Wheeler McGee is preparing to land on the Appellate bench, that is provided he gets the necessary majority of votes. These attorneys claim he is anxious to reverse things, and they point to the latest case in question.

John Lockney, a negro, was arrested on the suspicion that he was an accomplice in a cutting affray. When he was searched it was found that he carried a gun, so the charge of carrying concealed and deadly weapons was registered against him. Judge McGee, in passing on the case, held that if Lockney had not been arrested for complicity in the cutting the gun would not have been found; therefore he dismissed the defendant.

In this it seems to have been a case of proven but not guilty.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Is Having Interesting Debates On What Church Teaches.

Mackin Council had an excellent meeting Tuesday night with President Louis J. Kieffer presiding, although a great part of the evening was devoted to routine matters that was of interest only to members. Henry Everslage was reported improving after his long spell of illness. The Library Committee recommended more improvements in the arrangement of the library. The recommendations were taken under consideration.

Members of the council discussed the following questions in Christian doctrine: "What does Ascension day mean and what does Trinity Sunday commemorate?" Under head of good of the order David O'Connell, of Trinity Council, made an interesting talk on affairs in his end of the city, and invited Mackin's members to visit Trinity's new home early and often. The subject from Christian doctrine which will be to be discussed next week will be: "What is confirmation and is it necessary to salvation?"

KENTUCKY DERBY

Will Be Run For Thirty-fifth Time at Churchill Downs.

The thirty-fifth annual spring meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club will be inaugurated at Churchill Downs next Monday, and followers of the turf say that the class of horses that will compete here during the eighteen days of racing will be better than ever. As usual, the classic Kentucky Derby will be the fourth race on the first day, and the best three-year-olds in the country will compete for the $50,000 stakes, of which $7000 will go to the second and $3000 to the third. Two other good stake races are scheduled for the week, the Debutante, for two-year-old fillies next Wednesday, and the Clark handicap on Saturday. In the latter race the starters are to be three-year-olds and upward.

There will be six races on each day throughout the meeting and the club management is more than pleased with the outlook. President Charles F. Grainger, Vice President and General Manager M. J. Winn, Secretary Lyman H. Davis and Treasurer Applegate have surrounded themselves with capable officials and the public is sure to get a run for its money. With such men as Charles F. Price as Presiding Judge and Charles F. Grainger and William Shelley as Associate Judges there can be no cause for fear.

YOUNG LIFE CLOSED.

Edward Greaney, one of the most popular young men in the West End, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ella Delaney, 422 1/2 Bank street, early Tuesday morning, and the funeral took place from St. Patrick's church Thursday morning. The deceased was a member of one of St. Patrick's pioneer families, but his parents have been dead several years. Besides his sister, Mrs. Ackley, he is survived by a brother, Joseph Greaney, and sister, Mrs. James W. Dougherty, of Muncie, Ind. The deceased was popular with all who knew him, and his untimely death is generally regretted.

HONOR IS MERITED.

Bruce Haldeman, President and Business Manager of the Courier-Journal, was honored by his colleagues last week by being elected Vice President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. The meeting was held in New York, and the election took place on Friday. Mr. Haldeman has long been recognized as one of the ablest newspaper managers in the country, and his newspaper friends in Louisville rejoice over his preferment. On the night of his election he was also one of the guests at a dinner tendered Richard Croker by Norman E. Mack, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

VICTORY FOR SULLIVAN.

Judge Patrick T. Sullivan has scored the first point in the litigation to compel the Magisterial redistricting committee to rescind its action in attempting to so limit the Eighth district as to put him out of the running. Judge James P. Gregory made a motion before the Fiscal Court Tuesday to correct what he termed might be a technical defect. The motion was sustained, and the redistricting committee will have to go over its work.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Has No Equal as a Nerve Tonic.

Afton, Ia., March 14th, 1908.

I was taken down with rheumatism about 7 years ago it made me helpless and a cripple. I suffered untold agony and it ran down my spine. I could not do any work, and I was in a state of nervous prostration. I used a bottle of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, I will cheerfully and honestly say it has no equal as a Tonic and leaves no bad reaction on the system, and I would recommend it to all nervous people.

M. Meek.

Ladysmith, Wis., February 20th, 1908.

My daughter Nellie has been very nervous and the doctors said she had Neuritis but their medicine did not help her, so Mrs. Koenig of Ladysmith, called my attention to Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic which had cured her little grand daughter of St. Vitus dance. I procured a bottle which my daughter used according to directions and was all over her nervousness before the whole bottle was used.

PAY AS YOU ENTER

Innovation On One Car Line Promises Greater Safety.

Tomorrow the Louisville Railway Company will inaugurate the "pay on the platform" system on the Portland avenue and Shelby street line. If the system proves popular, as no doubt it will, it will be adopted on all the lines gradually. The Louisville Railway Company has made known its plans weeks in advance, and there should be no misunderstanding about them.

One must enter at the rear, and only by the step marked entrance. Passengers are requested to have the exact change, although when necessary it will be furnished by conductors. Smoking will be allowed only on the front platform. Transfers are to be asked for on entering the car, and each passenger is expected to deposit his or her own fare in the box. One may leave the car either from the front or rear, thus expediting ingress and egress. If the system has many points to recommend it, chief among them is that two men will be at all times in control of the car, the conductor on the rear platform and the motorman in front. In this way all possible danger will be eliminated.

NOT BADLY HURT.

Officer Michael Moran, of the Fourth police district, who suffered a dislocation of his left shoulder last Sunday, is able to leave the hospital and will soon be back on duty. Moran is a member of the mounted squad and was chasing the runaway horse of a brother officer when his own horse stumbled and fell upon him.

ANNUAL INSPECTION

Of Knights of St. John
Booked For May 10 at Phoenix Hill.

The annual inspection of the Knights of St. John will take place at Phoenix Hill Park at 8 o'clock on the night of Monday, May 10. The various commanderies will be out in full force with Col. Theodore Poppe commanding. The inspecting officers will be Col. Henry Felhoelter and Col. Joseph Blocher. Adjutant Clemens Wiegand is making all arrangements necessary for the inspection and the drill that will follow.

The Knights of St. John have seven local commanderies. It is one of the oldest and strongest Catholic fraternal insurance societies, and the annual inspection always attracts large crowds, and the reception that follows is always enjoyable.

DOUBLE FEAST

Attracted Many Catholics to Sacred Heart Retreat Wednesday.

Catholics from all over the city visited the Sacred Heart Retreat, on the Newburg road, Wednesday to assist at one or more of the religious exercises attendant upon the double feast of St. Paul of the Cross and the Portiuncula. From dawn until sunset the chapel and grounds were crowded with devout worshippers. The first mass was celebrated at 5 o'clock, and each hour thereafter a low mass was celebrated until 1 o'clock, when it was a solemn high mass. The Rev. Father Wilfrid Avery was celebrant, with Rev. Fathers Ambrose and Colman as deacon and subdeacon respectively. Rev. Father Clepas was master of ceremonies, and Rev. Father Benedict Hanly preached the panegyric of St. Paul of the Cross.

Solemn vespers were sung at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon and was followed by benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. During the day blessings with the relic of St. Paul were frequently given. The vespers were sung in the real Gregorian chant by the Passionist Fathers and novices.

COLONELS CLASH

With Their Hoosier Rivals Today and Tomorrow.

This afternoon's and tomorrow's games will be the last chance to see Heine Pietz's Colonels perform until Friday, June 5, when Minneapolis will appear here for a three-game series, followed by Kansas City, St. Paul and Milwaukee. A banner crowd will be on hand today and, as for tomorrow, the new stand will surely be tested to its fullest capacity, as the fans here are well pleased over the remarkable road showing of the Louisville team, and baseball enthusiasm is now at its highest pitch, one thing especially being pleasing to their admirers, and that is the consistent team batting being done, they no longer being entitled to the name of "hitless wonders."

As predicted, a great many fans have turned out to greet our old favorite, Jimmy Burke, even if he is in the camp of the enemy and our hated rivals, the Indianapolis team, which speaks well for the fairness of the baseball going public, who are always ready to give the hand to a clean sportsman and wish him good luck—which is the secret of the success of the great national pastime.

REMEMBER JULY 5.

The four local divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, through the medium of the County Board, have determined to hold the usual annual picnic and reunion this year. Because July 4 falls on Sunday the Hibernians have selected the nearest possible date and have secured Phoenix Hill Park for the celebration. The Hibernians are always patriotic Americans, and try whenever possible to have their annual reunions on July 4 or as near it as possible. Sometimes they have been unfortunate in not obtaining the proper date. This year July 4 falls on Sunday, and as they have no desire to desecrate the Sabbath the reunion will be held on Monday.

GOLDEN JUBILEE.

St. Martin's Benevolent Society, of Newport, will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary at St. Martin's church on Sunday, May 16. At 6 o'clock in the morning the members of the society will receive holy communion in a body, and at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a mammoth street parade. The Knights of St. John and other Catholic societies will assist in the parade. The committee that is arranging the parade is made up of Messrs. Frank Roll, Chairman; John Dutle, Secretary; Charles Zell, Treasurer; John Strahm, Grand Marshal of the parade; John Boehme, Matt Maschnott, Jacob Roll, William Geringer, Matt McNamara, H. Hoffstetter, John Phistner, Joseph Lotterer and Al Glaser. This is one of the oldest Catholic societies in Newport.

VICTIM OF ASSAULT.

John J. Holland, who was assaulted by highwaymen on the night of April 13, is recovering rapidly and will soon be able to resume his duties. Mr. Holland is a veteran resident of the Hill and is employed as night watchman by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company. While patrolling the yards he encountered three suspicious characters, who set upon him and beat him very badly. His friends hope that his recovery will be complete and rapid.

MOTION PICTURES.

The Princess Amusement Company has suffered no falling off of business on account of the advent of spring weather. The pictures are just as charming and instructive as ever and each afternoon and night finds the Casino, Princess and Columbia Theaters crowded to their capacity. Electric fans will guarantee fresh, pure air during the warm days. New films and plenty of them are promised for next week.
